

An Invitation to Professional Growth

Founded in 1948 as the Fire Insurance Exchange of Seattle, the Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of King County is today a dynamic organization of approximately 150 member agencies representing the independent insurance agents in King County.

The membership is comprised of all types of agencies, from smaller, one-person firms and larger brokerages to experienced professionals and those just breaking into the business.

The Association's mission is to provide support to the goals of our affiliate state and national organizations; provide opportunities for education and professional interaction; and encourage collective membership activities that serve the community.

If you are involved in the insurance business, your involvement in IIABKC is an investment of your time and money in your professional growth. You can help make a difference and share in setting the course for the industry in the years ahead. Please join us!

Seven Good Reasons to Join the IIABKC

1 You Are Represented on the Local, State, and National Levels. IIABKC members benefit from three-tier representation – representation within King County, representation on a state-wide level through the Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of Washington and representation on a national level through the Independent Insurance Agents of America.

2 You Can Participate in Thought-Provoking Educational Programs. The IIABKC's continuing education programs and Annual Meetings offer members unparalleled educational offerings that are specially tailored to the specific needs of King County agents. Previous topics that have challenged members include "employment law coverage", "ocean marine insurance", "workers compensation," and "directors and officers liability insurance for corporations."

3 You Can Build Effective Business Relationships. You and your staff are your company's most important public relations/sales resource. Every contact you make is a potential asset to you and your business. The IIABKC's Annual Meeting, educational offerings, golf tournament, and social events are excellent tools for professional interaction.

4 You Can Give Something Back To Your Community. The IIABKC believe in "giving back" something to the community it serves. From sponsoring a "Limited Income Smoke Detector Program" to assisting local public television with pledge drives, the IIABKC's involvement in such projects shows that our members care about the quality of life in King County. The IIABKC also support higher learning through offering scholarships to students of the University of Washington, Bothell.

5 You Can Enhance Your Public Relations Efforts. The IIABKC's Communications Committee works hard to educate the public on the role of the independent insurance agent and provide press coverage for activities of the organization.

6 You Have A Responsibility. As a member of the insurance industry, you have a responsibility to be a part of its workings. The successful professional is one who shares that responsibility and who participates in his or her industry's organization. We need and want you to be part of our team.

7 Its Easy to Join the IIABKC...Membership in the IIABKC is coexistent with the IIABW. King County membership fees are based by the agency. The application form, including the dues investment schedule, is attached. Simply complete the form and submit it along with your check to the IIABKC Office. Additional forms are available by calling (425) 778-6162.

It's a Good Decision to Join the IIABKC. You will find membership in the IIABKC to be a terrific investment in your future. If you have any questions regarding membership, meeting dues, committee service or other opportunities for involvement, please contact the IIABKC Office at (425) 778-6162, Post Office Box 2016, Edmonds, WA 98020.
